Who we are

Over 100.000 people in 715 cities in 155 countries are working in KPMG. KPMG is the global network of professional services firms whose aim is to turn knowledge into value for the benefit of its clients, people and communities. Our industry-focused professionals deliver market-oriented strategies through our main service lines: Audit, Tax, and Advisory. We deliver market business oriented solutions through specialised professionals in several lines of business: audit, tax services, legal advice and financial advisory services. In Romania and Moldova we employ about 270 people and we have offices in Bucharest, Timisoara and Chisinau.

What we do

We often visit universities to make presentations and meet with you as young graduates and potential new joiners. We also go to a number of career fairs. We are there to provide you with an excellent opportunity to meet some of our people and ask them questions in person. They'll also give you more of an insight into KPMG.

So what's the difference?

KPMG provides outstanding opportunities for new graduates who aim for a career in a dynamic and friendly work environment. We offer you a combination of great jobs to work on, great colleagues to work with and a range of great training programmes. Our audit practice, for example, helps clients achieve their strategic objectives by improving the reliability and relevance of their data and financial information. You can be part of the team.

Your profile

Our outstanding opportunities address to young Economics graduates, who are fluent in English and proficient in at least another foreign language (German, French, Italian, Spanish). In addition, a relevant work experience in a multicultural business environment would be an asset in supporting a successful application.
